Proveca Ltd. Transfer of Value Disclosure 2022 Methodological Note

Introduction

Proveca Ltd. engages healthcare professionals (HCPs), other relevant decision makers (ORDMs), healthcare organisations (HCOs) and patients' organisations across Europe to obtain independent and expert advice to ensure high standards of patient care. Such engagements include but are not limited to research and development, educational and training events, advisory board meetings and attendance at conferences including promotional activities.

Proveca Ltd. has agreed to comply with the IPHA- Code of Practise to document and publicly disclose payments or other transfers of value made directly or indirectly to HCPs, ORDMs and HCOs. This note describes Proveca Ltd's (including subsidiaries) method of disclosure of Transfer of Value (ToV) for 2022 in accordance with the requirements of the IPHA code.

In 2022, we reviewed all payments made by Proveca to external sources. The relevant payments for disclosure, as per the IPHA 2021 Code of Practice, were identified. These payments and all the invoices for these payments were reviewed and added appropriately to the supplied Disclosure of ToV spreadsheet provided. We have published this on our website along with this methodological note.

Currency aspects and Value Added Tax (VAT)

All ToV were made in Euros (€). No other currencies were used for ToV in 2022. For payments made to HCOs, payments are declared in Euros (€) and values disclosed do not include VAT.

Time of declaration

This declaration has been made in line with the expectations of IPHA, to publish the ToVs by the end of June 2022.
